

March 2025
Diversity Digest

Women's HISTORY Month

In 1987, the month of March became recognized as National Women's History Month, a time dedicated to honoring the significant contributions of women throughout history, society, and culture.

This year's theme, "Moving Forward Together," encourages us to reflect on the roles that women play in education, mentorship, and leadership.

Let us use this opportunity to celebrate the incredible women who inspire us through their strength, resilience, and wisdom. As we honor their impact, we remain dedicated to supporting each other, fostering unity, and continuing our journey of growth and empowerment.

Who will YOU take a moment to honor and celebrate during this National Women's Month?

*"Here's to strong women. May we be them.
May we know them. May we raise them"-
Michelle Obama.*